

SCNet Webinar
Emily Smith
Chat box comments

Gil Nelson:<http://scnet.acis.ufl.edu/content/designing-interdisciplinary-collections-internships-college-students>

Gil

Nelson:https://www.academia.edu/1419871/Tales\_Dead\_Birds\_Tell\_the\_historical\_and\_cultural\_context\_of\_early\_avian\_specimens\_in\_the\_biology\_collections\_of\_Randolph\_College

Vanessa Rhue:Do you have any criteria for selecting potential interns?

Amy Buthod, Oklahoma Biological Survey:Do you have a list of the associated readings you would be willing to share?

Charlotte Seid from OGL:Thank you for some great ideas and experiences! Are there particular funding opportunities, software, and other training resources that you would recommend?

Molly Phillips - iDigBio:Do you prefer a certain year (sophomore etc.) and do you require a minimum time commitment?

Emily Smith:eHive

Emily Smith:eHive.com

Laura Abraczinskas:AMNH has Shelf Life series online

Emily Smith:Thanks! That's it

Molly Phillips - iDigBio:Thank you so much!

A Krings:thank you!

Laura Abraczinskas:Thanks Emily!

Parvaneh A.:Thank you Emily!

Meredith Mahoney - IL State Museum:Thank you, very interesting!

Janet Bala:Great job! Gave me lot's of ideas. My set up is very similar.

Emily Smith:esmith@randolphcollege.edu

Mare Nazaire:Thank you Emily!

Everhart Museum:Thank you!