

CAREERS AND GRADUATE STUDY

IN THE BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

FREE
ONE-DAY
WORKSHOP

INCLUDING...
LUNCH
EARLY EVENING SOCIAL
OPPORTUNITY TO WIN ONE
OF 10 $25 AMAZON GIFT CARDS

Who? Underrepresented students in the biological sciences who are interested in biodiversity, field biology, ecology, and evolution, including African and Black Americans, Native Americans, and those of Hispanic ethnicity.

When? February 1, 2014, 10:00a.m. to 6:00p.m.

Where? University of Central Florida, Orlando, FL.

Photo courtesy of the Florida Museum of Natural History

Why? Gain valuable advice from graduate students and professionals in the field of biology. Get EXCITED about YOUR FUTURE!

For a complete agenda, more information, and registration please visit:

<http://tinyurl.com/biologycareer>

For further information, feel free to e-mail: Gil Nelson (gnelson@bio.fsu.edu)

